

Time to Think of Warm Clothing

FALL is here---time to think of warm wearables. We have a better stock today than ever before. Our range contains a full assortment of H. B. K. warm Coats, Gloves, Hosiery, Sox, Sweaters, Caps, Big Shirts, Underwear, Moccasins, etc.

One reason why we recommend H.B.K. goods is because they are Ax and you cannot get any better. They stand the wear and are guaranteed by the makers. Any goods with H.B.K. brand are good goods. We have sold them for several years.

H.B.K. Sheep Lined Coats

A sheep lined coat that is lined only part way round and a short way down is a poor affair yet those imitators who cannot make goods like H.B.K. prices often turn out goods that are mere excuses for sheep lined coat. H.B.K. sheep lined coats are lined with the best lambs of short wool sheepskin, lots of lining to cover the whole body, honestly made and fairly priced. If you want a coat that will keep you really warm in real cold weather nothing can beat an H.B.K. sheep lined coat and we have a very large assortment on hand now.

H.B.K. Fly Front Coats

The fly front on H.B.K. coats is a great protector for the chest and body. In most sheep lined coats the sheepskin does not meet in front and the most sensitive part of the body is exposed. With the H.B.K. fly front the body is fully protected by the lining of the coat both in sheep skin lined and mackinaw lined coat. The H.B.K. fly front is one of the best inventions ever put into a duck coat. Made in short and long sizes. We have a splendid range of these coats. Come in and see them.

H.B.K. Underwear

H.B.K. Underwear is guaranteed pure wool and absolutely non-shrinking. It is knit with elastic rib and cannot shrink. It is made of clean pure wool---thoroughly cleaned of oil and grease, soft, warm and free from splinters and burrs. It pays to buy this underwear,

H. B. K. Underwear

H. B. K. Big Shirt

The H.B.K. Big Shirt is branded and guaranteed by the makers. It is a mighty good shirt because it is made big and roomy where it ought to be. Each shirt bears an affidavit showing how many yards of material used in it.

The "Mufflet"

It is simply a Sweater Neck with three ply of knitted fabric around the throat, and fastened behind dome fasteners. From the neck in front hangs the chest protecting pad of knit wool.

Everyone knows how often during the day one's throat and chest are exposed. A man walks with a heavy overcoat or a lady with a fur coat, gets warmed up, perhaps perspires, opens the coat to go in somewhere, comes out again and forgets to close the coat till the cold strikes in, that's the time you get it good and plenty. Maybe it will be pneumonia or perhaps only congestion or rheumatism or tonsillitis or some other gentle ailment that will stay with you all winter. Now all this may be prevented by wearing one of these elegant and inexpensive "Mufflets."

The Landman Didsbury

Best of the Season.

Mr. David B. Gally, who is to appear at the Didsbury Opera House on Friday, Oct. 25, in "We are King," Mr. Walker Whiteside's comedy success, "We are King" is one of the best of the younger generation of actors as the double role of Gustavus Verner, and Hector, King of Kahnburg, is most difficult to play. "We are King," is different to play from "The Queen of the Orange," Noho, "World Herald" of Nov. 23, said in part:

"The King of Kahnburg is not the King, and yet the King of Kahnburg lives." These mysterious words came from the lips of Mr. Raven, and they are prophetic, as they are true. The Raven is a strange man, in black, who has followed the real heir to the throne of Kahnburg, with the confession of a priest in his possession, which establishes his right to reign. The king has been put in a madhouse by a court cabal and another compelled to be the real king.

"The Princess Olivia of Beronia comes upon the scene incognito to see if she can love the King, whom she is fated to marry, so to Kahnburg, and has it definitely told her her prison captain. She falls deeply in love with the acting king, who, unknown to her, is the real monarch, and he becomes as deeply in love with the visitor at court, who, unknown to him, is the Princess Olivia. This high class comedy, which was one of Walker Whiteside's greatest successes, is one of the strongest plays seen here this season and certainly deserves the appreciation of the play going public. There is a fine display of high class acting and a most pleasurable. Manager C. P. Walker has supplied Mr. Gally with an elaborate production.

Grandpa always tells me stories
Bout the war, its woes and glories.
All he well remembers.
True ones, too they are, and wondrous;
Fights he tells of, cannon thunderous;
Scenes around campfires embers.

When in school I'm asked a question
On the war, whispered suggestion
Need not even reach me,
Cause I know it all beforehand.
Grandpa's marshalled troops of toyland
All these years, to teach me.

But as schoolboys welcome gladly
Decoration Day, he sadly
Looks at me and utters
Words that make the tears come starting.
"Time I, too, am soon departing
Comrades true, he mutters.

WAS A VERY POOR SHOT

MR. BADAME'S greatest desire was to be considered a good shot. On an occasion, an unusual moment, he told some friends that he had with ease often shot a pear from a tree in his orchard at a distance of 100 paces. The friends, however, were not inclined to put much faith in his statement, and asked that they be permitted to witness this exhibition of fine shooting.

Four of them, however, were present, and at any cost, the reputation he had given himself. He knew only too well that it would be impossible for him to hit a pear at that distance, for most men could not do it. He agreed, however, to climb into the tree and drop a pear as soon as he heard the shot. Besides bestowing a liberal reward upon Johnny, he presented him with a bag of pistol cartridges.

In due time the friends arrived. Mr. Badame carefully counted off 100 paces and then called to him, "Johnny, now you had, without fail, begun to eat the pear when he was to drop it, and when the shot rang out his wife was so muddled that he let fall the bag of pistol cartridges."

Most good-natured chaffing did the would-be marksman receive upon the size of the "pear" shot from the limb. Never again did Mr. Badame boast of his ability as a shot.

Cheerful Generosity.

The piece of money was had, without a murmur, by the little boy to whom he had just sold a梨 (pear) and who was waiting for his change.

"Little boy," said he, "the money goes to you."

The boy answered, good-naturedly, "Oh, then you can keep all the change, Tom."

Just Wanted It.

Mother said to Dorothy, "Go into the restaurant all alone. She couldn't tell you what she wanted, so get a dinner for her."

Dorothy said, "I'm not hungry."

"By the way, mien boy, would you like to have your steak?"

"I would, indeed," said Dorothy, with a sigh.

Pealed Off.

The wife doctor had been explaining the disease to Dorothy.

"Now can you tell me what a skinned person is?" said he when through.

"John is Mary," said he when through.

"The doctor said he had been told, 'It was hard work.'

"A skinned person is a man, who has his skin outside, and his outside off."

The Danding Cross.

Cut a little cross out of fine tissue paper. Cut the top off of its center, and then force the point of the needle through the center.

Place the bottom of it on your hand on one side of the cross. It will soon move and begin to turn round upon the needle.

A Delicious Graham Pudding.

One cup of sugar, one cup of milk, one cup of flour, one cup of raisins, one cup of chopped apples and raisins, or other fruit, two tablespoons of butter, a pinch of salt, a pinch of nutmeg, a dash of flavor if desired.

Stir all, loosely covered, for three hours, without raising the cover or stirring, over a slow fire. When done, it may be used as cake or be eaten with a hard sauce made of sugar and water boiled together, and then allowed to cool, then beaten until smooth.

Another, but perhaps not more palatable, is made of one and one-half cups of flour, one and one-half cup of butter, beaten together; three tablespoons of sugar, one egg, and the white of one egg. Flavor with juice and yellow rind of a lemon or anything else you like.

HOW THE TRICK IS DONE.

Creamed Cucumber Sauce.

Take a very thin knife and a knife to match. Cut a cucumber without pricking it, letting it drip for two minutes. Remove the seeds and cut it in two, with a clove of garlic. Put the mint into it, season with white pepper and a tablespoonful of lemon juice.

Turn the mint over with a silver fork a cupful of whipped cream, into which which has been beaten a pinch of nutmeg. Serve very cold with fish.

GETTING HIS OWN MEDICINE.

was thrust a porcupine, who struggled and twisted in misery as the sharp spines pierced his body. Meantime the sultan had a dream. He dreamt that he had gone to battle and had been captured by them. He was taken to a deep dungeon where he was to remain until his ransom was paid. The sultan hung him up by the thumbs, beat him with his bare hands, and almost pulled him apart on a horrible machine. Last of all, they hung him up in a great iron cage, and poured oil slowly over him until he died in agony—and then away. Springing from his couch, he said: "I have had enough of this! I shall be no more tortured!" The sultan kept his word, and his people, who before had hated him, now loved him devotedly.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, easily point to weak Kidneys. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and lungs, are the chief organs of the body, but in the nerves that control and give strength them, they should be strengthened. A simple, easily prepared, and easily controlling nerve. To doctor the Kidneys alone is not enough, as the other organs are as well.

Your back aches or is weak, if the urine seizes, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other diseases, or desire to have a strong, healthy, robust, and robustive, and see what it can and do for you. Doctor recommends this.

Thos. H. Stark of Des Moines, Iowa, Medical College, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stark.

Now is the time to think about your winter clothing supply. The B.C. Clothing Co. are headquarters for clothing and furnishings.

Several flocks of wild geese have been seen going south and several parties have started out hoping to arrest a few on their journey.

Age your glasses right? Vision changes as all things do. See Taube & Son at Chambers' drugstore, Didsbury, on Thursday, Oct. 24th.

The prices for wheat and oats are gradually declining and it will be as well for the farmers to hustle in their grain as soon as it is threshed.

Mrs. A. J. Weart will hold her post-nuptial reception on Wednesday, October 23rd, from 4 to 6 p.m., and will receive every following fourth Thursday.

The sudden death of Mrs. W. Findlay, who lives at the Dog Pound west of town, occurred last week. Heart disease is reported to be the cause of death.

A. F. Maley of the City Meat Market, will ship a car of hogs to Victoria, B.C., on Saturday. Hogs must be in cars on Friday night or Saturday morning early.

Harvest thanksgiving service in the English Church (Hembury's Hall) Sunday evening at 7:30. Rev. H. Smith of Olds will preach. The hall will be decorated and also special music.

Loss of eyesight is worse than loss of fortune. No matter how small your eye trouble may be, have it corrected. See Taube & Son at Chambers' drugstore, Didsbury, Thursday, Oct. 24th.

J. Davidson has purchased a Dain hay press from H. B. Atkins and is now ready to take all the hay contracts he can get. Jim is an experienced hand at this business and should make it a success.

The residents of Lacknerville are complaining of the small amount of work which has been done to their roads and sidewalks. It is time something was done to give them better accommodation before the bad weather sets in.

WANTED—Wideawake boys in every city, town and village to sell Western Canada's new weekly newspaper, The Western Homestead. Hustlers can make money. No capital required. Write for terms immediately. The Western Homestead, Calgary.

Be sure and read the news the B.C. Clothing Co. are printing in this week's issue.

The public of Didsbury and district will have chance to hear one of the best musical organizations of Canada next Thursday afternoon when the Kilties band which has played before the King and all over England, Ireland, Scotland, America and Mexico, are to appear and give one of their best programmes in the opera house. The public should show their appreciation to the managers of the opera house for bringing such a talented organization to Didsbury by packing the house.

It has been suggested that the Mayor proclaim a civic holiday next Thursday afternoon, October 24th, to allow everybody a chance to hear the famous Kilties band which is to appear at Didsbury on that date. Several towns at which this band has appeared have done this and the idea is a good one as it will not only allow the merchants and their clerks to hear this splendid musical organization but the workingmen as well.

PAINS IN THE BACK OVER THE KIDNEYS

Tell of Diseased Kidneys and the Proven Cure For The Dreadfully Painful Ailment Is
DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

When kidney disease does not arise from exposure to draft or chilling of the body, it is usually developed gradually as a result of liver and bowel disorders.

It is because of the intimate and dependent relation of the liver, kidney and bowels to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, cure disease of the kidneys when mere kidney medicines fail.

In quickening the action of the liver we have this treatment immediately lessens the work of the kidneys, and at the same time restores their natural vigor. In this way the most serious and complicated cases of the kidneys are thoroughly cured.

Miss Delta McLean, 39, Main Street, Montreal, N. B., writes: "Some time my mother could not walk across the floor or stoop over because the pains in her back just over the kidneys were so great. She suffered from headache, spells of blindness and dizziness, and tried many medicines without obtaining relief. The doctors of town said that the trouble was due to the turn of life.

"A lady friend advised mother to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and by the time she had used two boxes of this great medicine she was perfectly cured, and the old trouble was entirely gone.

Mr. J. Edwards, of Coborne, Ont., and who is employed by the Kennedy & Davis Milling Co., Lindsay, Ont., writes: "Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have been taken for some time, and can positively say that they are the best medicine I ever used. I was troubled very much by my kidneys, and the pains in my back, which were increased by leaning over.

"You can testify to the exceptional merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I have had this treatment for some time, and shall gladly recommend them to anyone inquiring about them."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills regulate the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, Edmonds, Bates & Co., Toronto.

A Joke on the Preachers

Reformers are human, like other folks, and sometimes they do things that do not seem to them. Dr. John H. Coyne was elected mayor of Yonkers a good many clergymen were worried about the new police force, and so the word would appoint, when they picked out a delegation sent it to give the mayor some suggestions. He received his visitors politely, listened to their advice, and then shook his head. "You're too late, gentlemen," he said. "The commission is picked out and I shall announce it tomorrow." They went out and said to each other, "What is going to appear four men. One was a saloonkeeper whose place used to be raided about twice a week, and another man who had been convicted as a keeper of a poolroom, the third was a notorious "sport" who had often felt the arm of the law, and the fourth was a man who had said that he could be sure was that he had never been in jail. The next day the names were announced, but the ministers had vanished, and confirmation of their advance information. The mayor had appointed four of the best known and most respected citizens of the place, ignoring politics absolutely.

The number of deaths occurring among young children during the summer months is still appalling. In the city of Montreal last week 175 children under the age of five years died, and nearly all the deaths were due to the heat. The most terrible, with ordinary care most of these little lives might have been saved. Watch the milk given to the little ones, and feed them more, and give an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets, a medicine which surpasses all others in preventing and curing stomach and bowel troubles.

When the Hair Falls

Stop it! And why not? Falling hair is a disease, a regular disease; and Ayer's Hair Vigor, as made from our new improved formula, quickly and completely destroys that disease. The hair stops falling out, grows more rapidly, and all dandruff disappears.

Does not change the color of the hair.

Perfumed with each bottle Show it to your hairdresser
Ask him about it.
Then do as he says.

Ayer's
The little book in each package gives the formula of our new Hair Vigor, tells why it is superior to any other hair tonic, and many other interesting things. After reading you will know why this new hair preparation does its work so well.

An Absent-Minded Ecclesiastic

A good story is told of a learned member of the clergy in Canada, who is very thoughtful and studious, but very absent-minded. One morning he was going from town to town, and had a handbag packed and left in the hall, as he intended to walk to the railway station. After he had left the hall and saw the bag left in the hall, he daughter came into the hall and saw the bag left in the hall, and said, "Oh! mother, father has gone off and left his bag behind. I will run after him." "Well, sir, did she, and when she arrived at the station she found the canion walking about with the coat scuttle, which he had taken up in place of his bag.

They Advertise Themselves—Immediately they were offered to the public, "Parmeles" Vegetable Pills became popular, and the manufacturer made for themselves. That reputation has grown, and they now rank among the first medicines for use in attacks of dyspepsia and diarrhoea, of the liver and kidneys, rheumatism, fever and ague, and the innumerable complications to which these ailments give rise.

A COUNTRY VISITOR.

The New York Man Felt Above His Head but Changed His Opinion.

One of the most successful wholesale dry goods merchants New York city ever, and one of the most brilliant of his day, as his inferior and less fortunate brother was engaged in a business less good as he held, than his own. His employee was a young Vermonter, who, it is related, when one day a man from his native town who was visiting him, and who was a man of some wealth, and somewhat erudite in his manners, had just piled up a fortune in the tea and coffee business and in buying up at a discount in times of panic compered paper which he believed was good for his business.

"What business are you in?" asked the New York man. "We dry goods price as the two shock and."

"The tea-and-coffee business," drawled the Vermonter.

"What?" asked the dry goods merchant, who turned on his heel and bolted into his private office. "It didn't occur to me to inquire where merchants are engaged."

"Hold on a minute, Mr. —" shouted the Vermonter after the retreating figure. "I have a proposition to make you for breach of promise of marriage. The plaintiff was Miss Agnes Ischen and the defendant was Baron Randolph von Koenig." The Vermonter was gone.

The action was founded, said counsel, upon a suit for breach of promise to marry, to the Tribune, on two verbal promises made in September 1890 and January 1891. The plaintiff was a German and from 1894 to 1895 was learning the millinery business in Germany. When she came to London to be employed in the trade, she was offered an apprenticeship for about four weeks to live with him. At that time he was very poor, but he was not nearly so poor as he is now.

From his wallet the Vermonter drew several slips of paper, which he held up to the dry goods merchant's face.

The merchant glanced at them and, evidently, said the Vermonter wished to have the sum of $5,000 offered by the dry goods merchant and which, unknown to him, the Vermonter had bought up at a big discount.—Brooklyn Eagle.

OLD TIME CELEBRATIONS.

Happiness of the Order of the Day, Tranquillity of the Night.

The files of old newspapers are a priceless record of the history and manners of their times. In the papers of 1700 the account of the rejoicings of the day, when the world was full of fun and that the method of keeping them differed widely from our ideas of festiveness. Washington's birthday was perhaps the greatest holiday.

"Industrial citizens," we are told, "appreciate the importance of the day. Each family enriched the domestic meal with bountiful provisions, and gay spirits and temperate and undissimilated joy pervaded all classes."

There were speeches and processions and illuminations for the less important days, but the most important thing more than the hour of noon to the celebration, but the most memorable observance of the day was that of the Harvard students.

"Saying to each other that it would be a great privilege to be admitted to honor Washington with riot and disorder, they retired to their chambers before 9 o'clock, and by the time the bells ceased ringing there was not a light to be seen in any of the buildings."

The Times of New York, in its account of the celebration of Fourth of July for the same year, a day observed with great rejoicings. No accidents are reported, and the editor concludes, "In short, in every place we hear of from happiness was the order of the day, tranquillity of the night."—Youth's Companion.

The Luscious Grapes.

The grape, whose purple flood man for century after century has converted into wine, is a Persian by birth. Its origin was probably in the mountains of Caspian Sea, where the ancient Greeks and Romans enjoyed its acid taste.

The men of Gaul ground it to a dry powder and ate it with relish, as a medicine; half a medicine, they liked it. And then those days went by, and the bunches of grapes grew in Greece, Pompeii, which grow in immense clusters and weighed fifteen pounds to the bunch. Noah planted the vine immediately after the deluge. The book of Genesis mentions bread and wine, and the Israelites complained that Moses and Aaron had brought them out of Egypt into a dry and barren land where there were neither figs nor vines.

Aconite.

The larger aconite, or monkshood leaves is well known, but children need instruction to avoid those large palm shaped leaves which are dark green on the upper surface. The leaves of vegetable poisons causes great depression, pain, blindness, tingling all over the body, paroxysm and burning of the throat and stomach, and finally death ensues.

Sandy's Query

A Scotchman and his four children entered a fine, fashionable restaurant in London. Sandy, holding a bottle of lemonade and five tumblers. The waiter brought them, and stood some distance away to watch the proceedings. Sandy popped a little lemonade into each glass, and produced a large bag of pastries and gave one to each of the children. The waiter did not like to see this, and called a manager, who addressed Sandy thus:

"Do you know who I am?"

"I'm a waiter."

"I'm the manager."

"Oh, are you?" said Sandy: "then why the dickens is the ban' no payin'?"—London Tit-Bits.

Fall Fair a Success.

Didsbury's fifth annual fall fair is again a thing of the past, and the managers are to be congratulated on the excellent showing made. Although the attendance was hardly as large as last year the entries and exhibits were up to the mark, the show of horses being exceptionally good.

Premier Rutherford was present and opened the fair in a short speech congratulating the district on the splendid showing in all departments.

Mr. Craig, inspector of Provincial fairs, was also present and informed Secretary Atkins that Didsbury must have a station show building erected by the Government grant to the Agricultural Society. It is hoped that the Society will be in a position to hold its next fair in suitable grounds as the town council is taking steps to purchase land for a public park in which it is proposed the agricultural society will hold their fairs.

The exhibits were all good, the ladies' work being exceptionally fine. As the list of prize-winners has not been made up yet we are unable to publish it this week, but hope to have it in our next issue.

The Town Park

At last matters appear to be shaping themselves towards the settlement of the park question.

A week or two ago this paper reported the fact that A. P. Patrick, government land surveyor of Calgary, had been here and surveyed the land west of town for the purpose of locating the park but nothing further had been heard of the matter by the Council who instructed the town clerk to write Mr. Lott and ask to be informed as soon as possible.

Mr. Eby has received a letter from Mr. Lott within the last few days in which he says that he thought the Council was aware of what had been done and that when he was here himself he explained to the Council that if they could agree on the boundaries he would recommend the sale of 30 acres, more or less, at $50 an acre to his company, and that when Mr. Patrick returned to Calgary he gave him to understand that he had been over the ground with members of the Council and they had agreed on boundaries that would suit them.

Mr. Lott also stated that as soon as Mr. Patrick returned to Calgary from the south he would get his report and plans and take up the question of the sale with the owners at once.

It is now up to the Council to take steps to find out from the ratepayers if they want this park, and we think that there is no question whatever but that the bylaw will carry with a big majority now that the people know definitely where the park is to be and the reasonable price at which it can be purchased.

The Council have put themselves on record as being in favor of a park, and no debentures are present if it can be avoided, which is commendable in the present state of the money market, but it is thought that arrangements could be made whereby the park site could be secured by the plan of payments of the C. & E. company which would perhaps obviate the necessity of issuing debentures for this purpose. However, it seems to be the feeling of the ratepayers now that the situation for a park is a good one and should be purchased.

Will Form an Association

Quite a number of the proprietors of the private creameries and cheese factories of Alberta were gathered here on Tuesday last for the purpose of organizing an association.

G. Rutherford of Mayton, was elected chairman and F. H. Hunter of Didsbury, secretary. After short address from the chairman and a discussion of various topics by those present it was decided that an association called the Central Alberta Private Creamery and Cheese Association be formed. The acting secretary, F. H. Hunter, was reappointed also an executive committee namely, D. M. Stuart, Neapolis R. Karnagel, of Sunnyslope, and R. McCue, of Bowden, to work in conjunction with the secretary.

Clee Hall, a 12 year old Olds' youth, won the gold medal given by Alberta W.C.T.U. for the best temperance recitation at the provincial convention at Edmonton last week.
